

Benefit from a Content Management System

Functionality for Today. Scalability for Tomorrow.

A Content Management System (CMS) from General Code provides a standard for managing the content created by your organization every day. We can design and implement a CMS system with components that streamline business processes, balance enterprise control with departmental flexibility, and provide access to the people who need it. Our CMS solutions enable transparency, make your organization more efficient, and allow you to create innovative solutions. Our solutions will meet your present challenges. And you can expand and upgrade to meet future challenges.

Support

We help every step of the way. From determining your optimal solution and implementation, to continued support after installation, we are here for you. Technical support is available through a call to the General Code Helpdesk. Our Solutions Consultants can also provide training either on-line or on-site.

Experience

General Code has designed and installed CMS solutions in hundreds of counties, local governments, school districts, and other organizations. Laserfiche has done the same for tens of thousands of organizations worldwide. Read about our experience at GeneralCode.com
